LeapFrog Leapster GS Explorer

By Emily Hirschmann

When I was about six or seven, all I wanted in the world was a Speak and Spell. My best friend had one and I coveted it and the disappointment on Christmas morning when I opened the My Little Professor, the Speak and Spell's poorer country cousin my parents had bought for me, was palpable... I think I probably cried! Things have moved on so much since then that the technology that wowed the younger me seems positively archaic, particularly when compared to the modern equivalent, a stunning example of which is LeapFrog's Leapster GS Explorer.
